Clinical Military Counselor Certificate (CMCC) course

This course teaches the competencies of providing counseling and related services to:

- Active duty service members
- Veterans
- Veterans with disabilities
- Family members

The full CCMC will increase your knowledge, awareness, and skills of the unique cultural differences in the assessment, diagnosis, and treatment in military counseling and related services.

Five modules in the CCMC course offer participants comprehensive material related to the service member and veterans' medical, psychosocial, behavioral, cultural, mental health, family life, vocational, and career transition needs.

Presenter

Mark A. Stebnicki,
Ph.D., LPC, CRC, CCM, DCMHS, CMCC

Mark A. Stebnicki is a Professor and Coordinator of the Military and Trauma Counseling (MTC) Certificate Program in the Department of Addictions and Rehabilitation at East Carolina University. In 2015, he developed one of the nation's first military counseling certificates within a CACREP-accredited counselor education program. Dr. Stebnicki is an active teacher, researcher, and psychotherapy practitioner with over 30 years' experience working with adolescents and adults that have had exposure to extraordinary stressful and traumatic events, grief, loss, chronic illness, and disability. For over 30 years his work with both civilian and military trauma in the rehabilitation and mental health field are reflected in 8 professional texts, 28 journal articles, and over 100 presentations given regionally, statewide, and throughout the nation. He has served on many statewide and national professional counseling boards and organizations. Overall, these experiences have been cultivated and advanced in the Clinical Military Counseling Certificate (CMCC) program he developed in 2016.
